the 1955 agromeck

Nineteen fifty-five . . . what is it? To the students of North Carolina State College it's more than just a year; more than mere passage of time. It's a step forward, a step in our progress from being just plain kids to being capable of leading our fellow man and helping to shape and to share the destiny of the world. It's been a year of study, fun, worry and responsibility. The world has revolved many times; a great deal has happened—and some of it happened elsewhere than at State College.

This edition of THE AGROMECK is going to tell the story of last year—1954-55. It's not going to merely list the events, however. That means nothing; but it's going to show the gaiety . . . the study . . . the sadness . . . the companionship of the past year . . . as it affected you individually, State College in particular, and North Carolina and the United States in general.

Your AGROMECK represents your mark in your college days. If you remember . . . THAT'S HOW IT WAS . . . in 1955 at North Carolina State College in Raleigh, North Carolina, U. S. A.

1954 and 1955 have proved to have their share of disasters. Mother Nature did her share in North Carolina with Hazel; however, Hazel's effect here was mild compared to what some other states encountered.

Colonel Smith and Major Speed working to reduce highway deaths

1955 was the big year for N. C. Safety Program. Under the capable guidance of Commissioner Edward Sheidt, Colonel James R. Smith and Major C. A. Speed, an extensive safety program was launched, enforced with hot rod Fords, plain cars, speed watchers and radar.

During the last 8 months of 1954, N. C. Traffic Fatality Rates were cut by 16 per cent. This placed N. C. with the third lowest fatality rate in the U. S. However, this is only a portion of the safety program. In addition to controlling highway speeding and accidents, the Safety Division of the N. C. Highway Patrol also trains over 12,000 high school students as school bus drivers per year.

Working with N. C. State College's extension division, the Patrol initiated a 20-hour course in Driver Education. This was only the beginning of cutting the fatality rate in our state, which last year was 1,118. The Patrol's educational program extended beyond the Extension Program here at State. At the beginning of this year, they started a series of television programs on safety, impressing the people of North Carolina that it's their own lives in question.

To some very few of us, the Patrol's speed traps have been considered a bother but to the majority of us they have been "life savers." Because of these reminders of speed we're here to read about it.

Holliday Hall, wherein Col. Harrelson worked and planned for the advancement of State College.

The untimely death of Colonel John W. Harrelson, chancellor emeritus of North Carolina State College, brought shock and sorrow to the State and the Institution which he loved so well and served so nobly.

"The Colonel" was fatally stricken while delivering an address on March 12 at the dedication of the College's new D. H. Hill Library. He had worked with quiet dignity in many responsible positions to further the growth, development and advancement of North Carolina, and his beloved State College. Colonel Harrelson was a great leader, a distinguished soldier, and a dedicated citizen who will be sorely missed by his many friends.

A little bit of tradition supplanted by a great deal of modernness sums up the characteristics of a growing school . . . N. C. State College.

This fine balance between tradition and modernness provides a healthful atmosphere for rapid growth.

And there was growth on many levels. Earle Edwards surprised the Conference with a football team that made State Alumni both proud and hopeful for next year.

Speaking of Alumni, State's greatest alumnus, David Clark, whose name has become a tradition at State, worked as hard as ever in 1955 to keep the School in the place it so well deserves . . . first!

Highlights

It was a year with many highlights; unfortunately only a portion of them can be shown in this section. Most of them are the outstanding events of the year that affected the entire campus. To some of you the highlight of the year may be the girl you met, the election you won or maybe a friend you made for life. You can see it would be impossible to include these things in this section. However, if you remember—

That's how it was . . . a review of little things that occur

while others vacationed . . . some worked . . .

Although school officially started on September 14, for many it started in the summer. There was much work to be done to get State in high gear by September 14. There was planning for Freshman Week and the usual problems that come up. However, things were worked out beautifully and executed with precision:

Under the direction of its new president, "Doc Cheek, the Student Government held its first meeting September 10 to make sure everyone knew what he was to do in the orientation program. The meeting was short; the "Deb Ball" was held that night.

it was hot!

Nevertheless, State's football team was knocking heads in the warm 100° weather under the direction of our new head coach, Earle Edwards. Regardless of how the team would turn out, they all worked hard to give State something to be really proud of.

The studio was bustling with activity. People were running around setting up microphones and arranging cord. Inside the control room engineers were dialing knobs and colored lights were flashing on and off. Confusion? No, of course not. This was WVWP starting their broadcast for the coming year under the capable hands of Sam Harrell.

As a result of the last spring elections THE AGROMECK was inherited by Editor John Gregg and Business Manager Don Joyce. New ideas came to the two; so they journeyed to Lynchburg, Virginia, to meet with the engravers and to get these ideas on paper. Things looked rosy from the outside but the honeymoon was over soon; they found they had inherited themselves a job.

At the first meeting of the staff, John and Don told them that there are four things that make a yearbook: pictures, copy, policy and spirit. Pictures are taken, copy written; and policy is that guiding force that tells them that the staff must attend classes and they must pass their work or join the ranks of the "flunkey club." And that's where spirit enters the picture—the will to keep going.

That's how it was—the beginning of a new book. Others just hoped . . .

registration and a new system . . .

While upperclassmen's cries of "Hi, did you have a good summer?" echoed around them, 1400 bewildered, but willing-to-learn, freshmen arrived on campus that bright Thursday, September 9. They listened with great interest to what their upperclassmen had to say concerning State and its activities. For the next five days they were up bright and early taking placement exams, going on campus tours, meeting their deans and attending an occasional dance. This was only the beginning of four hard years of work, fun and a new life.

Then came the rest of the upperclassmen, each one with many tales of the summer. What had been a comparatively quiet campus all summer was suddenly bursting at its seams. There was a new semester system that was going into effect that was to be much discussed. There were to be three men to a room. And, of course, there was the usual discussion of which professor you should try to get, and the advice given by the sophomores to the new recruits.

This was the beginning of State College 1954-1955 school year!

Warm weather, long lines, thoughts of the semester system and of paying tuition made this a "typical" registration day.

crushed corsages and sore feet . . .

Everyone was dressed up. The boys in their new or newly rented tuxes—bow ties, black shoes and scattered boutonnieres gave them a distinguished look. The girls poured themselves into their seldom-used formals. With bare shoulders, stockings and high heels they waited for their one-and-only Greek to arrive.

When they reached the dance, out came the corsages to be delicately placed on the feminine form. Everybody made sure he looked his best—and the dance started. Like most dances this one took on the atmosphere of a sedate Viennese Ball at the beginning. As the dance progressed, however, the atmosphere relaxed—dancers danced closer, corsages became crushed, feet tired, thoughts became tender.

That's how it was the night of December 4th at State College.

and with the new year came exams!

The dreaded day finally came and students turned their interest from their many activities (Meredith, St. Marys, Peace, and who knows where else) to books. It didn't take too long for them to find that first semester was not so easy. Some of our friends have gone beyond . . . "flunked out" . . . So this page is dedicated to those poor souls who didn't make it . . .!

a new semester . . .

After the most generous vacation (3 days) between exams, everyone returned to face the new semester. Students were griping about the semester being gated too fast, faculty about the students not studying, and the parents about their sons wasting money. The AGROMECK doesn't know who is responsible, but would like to go on record as saying that the semester system is "for the birds."

an accent on music

After marching across the gridiron turf during the football season, the members of State's band switched to indoor music in the winter and spring quarters and formed a concert band.

With approximately 70 pieces, the band presented a concert during the winter quarter and played many "popular" classical pieces. The band is directed by Major C. D. Kutschinski.

Music comes in varying degrees—here we see a small group of boys listening to soft music to complete the atmosphere in Normans'—the Saturday "Poker" game.

Now the director takes his magic wand to show the students just what the band can do.

The band breaks loose on one of those foot-patting tunes before the group who come to see STATE prove itself once more as a leader.

All during 1954 and 1955 Jimmie Capps (Our Best To You—W.P.T.F.) gave the students of State music to study by, listen to, and best of all music to remember. The 1955 AGROMECK salutes Jimmie Capps and Our Best To You as the outstanding program of its type for this year.

The intramural program at State is a very extensive one. It gives the boys a chance to get out and get their minds away from their studies as well as develop their character. The programs are very competitive with each dorm in competition with the others. A champion from the dorm is determined as well as one from the Fraternities. Last year the champs were Becton I and Sigma Chi.

HARRIE S. KECK

For twenty-three years Harrie Keck has been working on the Agromeck—four while a student at State and nineteen publishing it. No one can appreciate the cooperation and splendid work that he has done any more than the staff of this year's book. We take pride in saluting you, Harrie S. Keck.

LINDSAY R. WHICHARD

No one from State college deserves an AGROMECK dedication more than Lindsay Whichard. He has been the backbone of the publications at N. C. State College —always willing to work but never willing to take the credit he so richly deserves. The staff proudly salutes you, Lindsay Whichard.

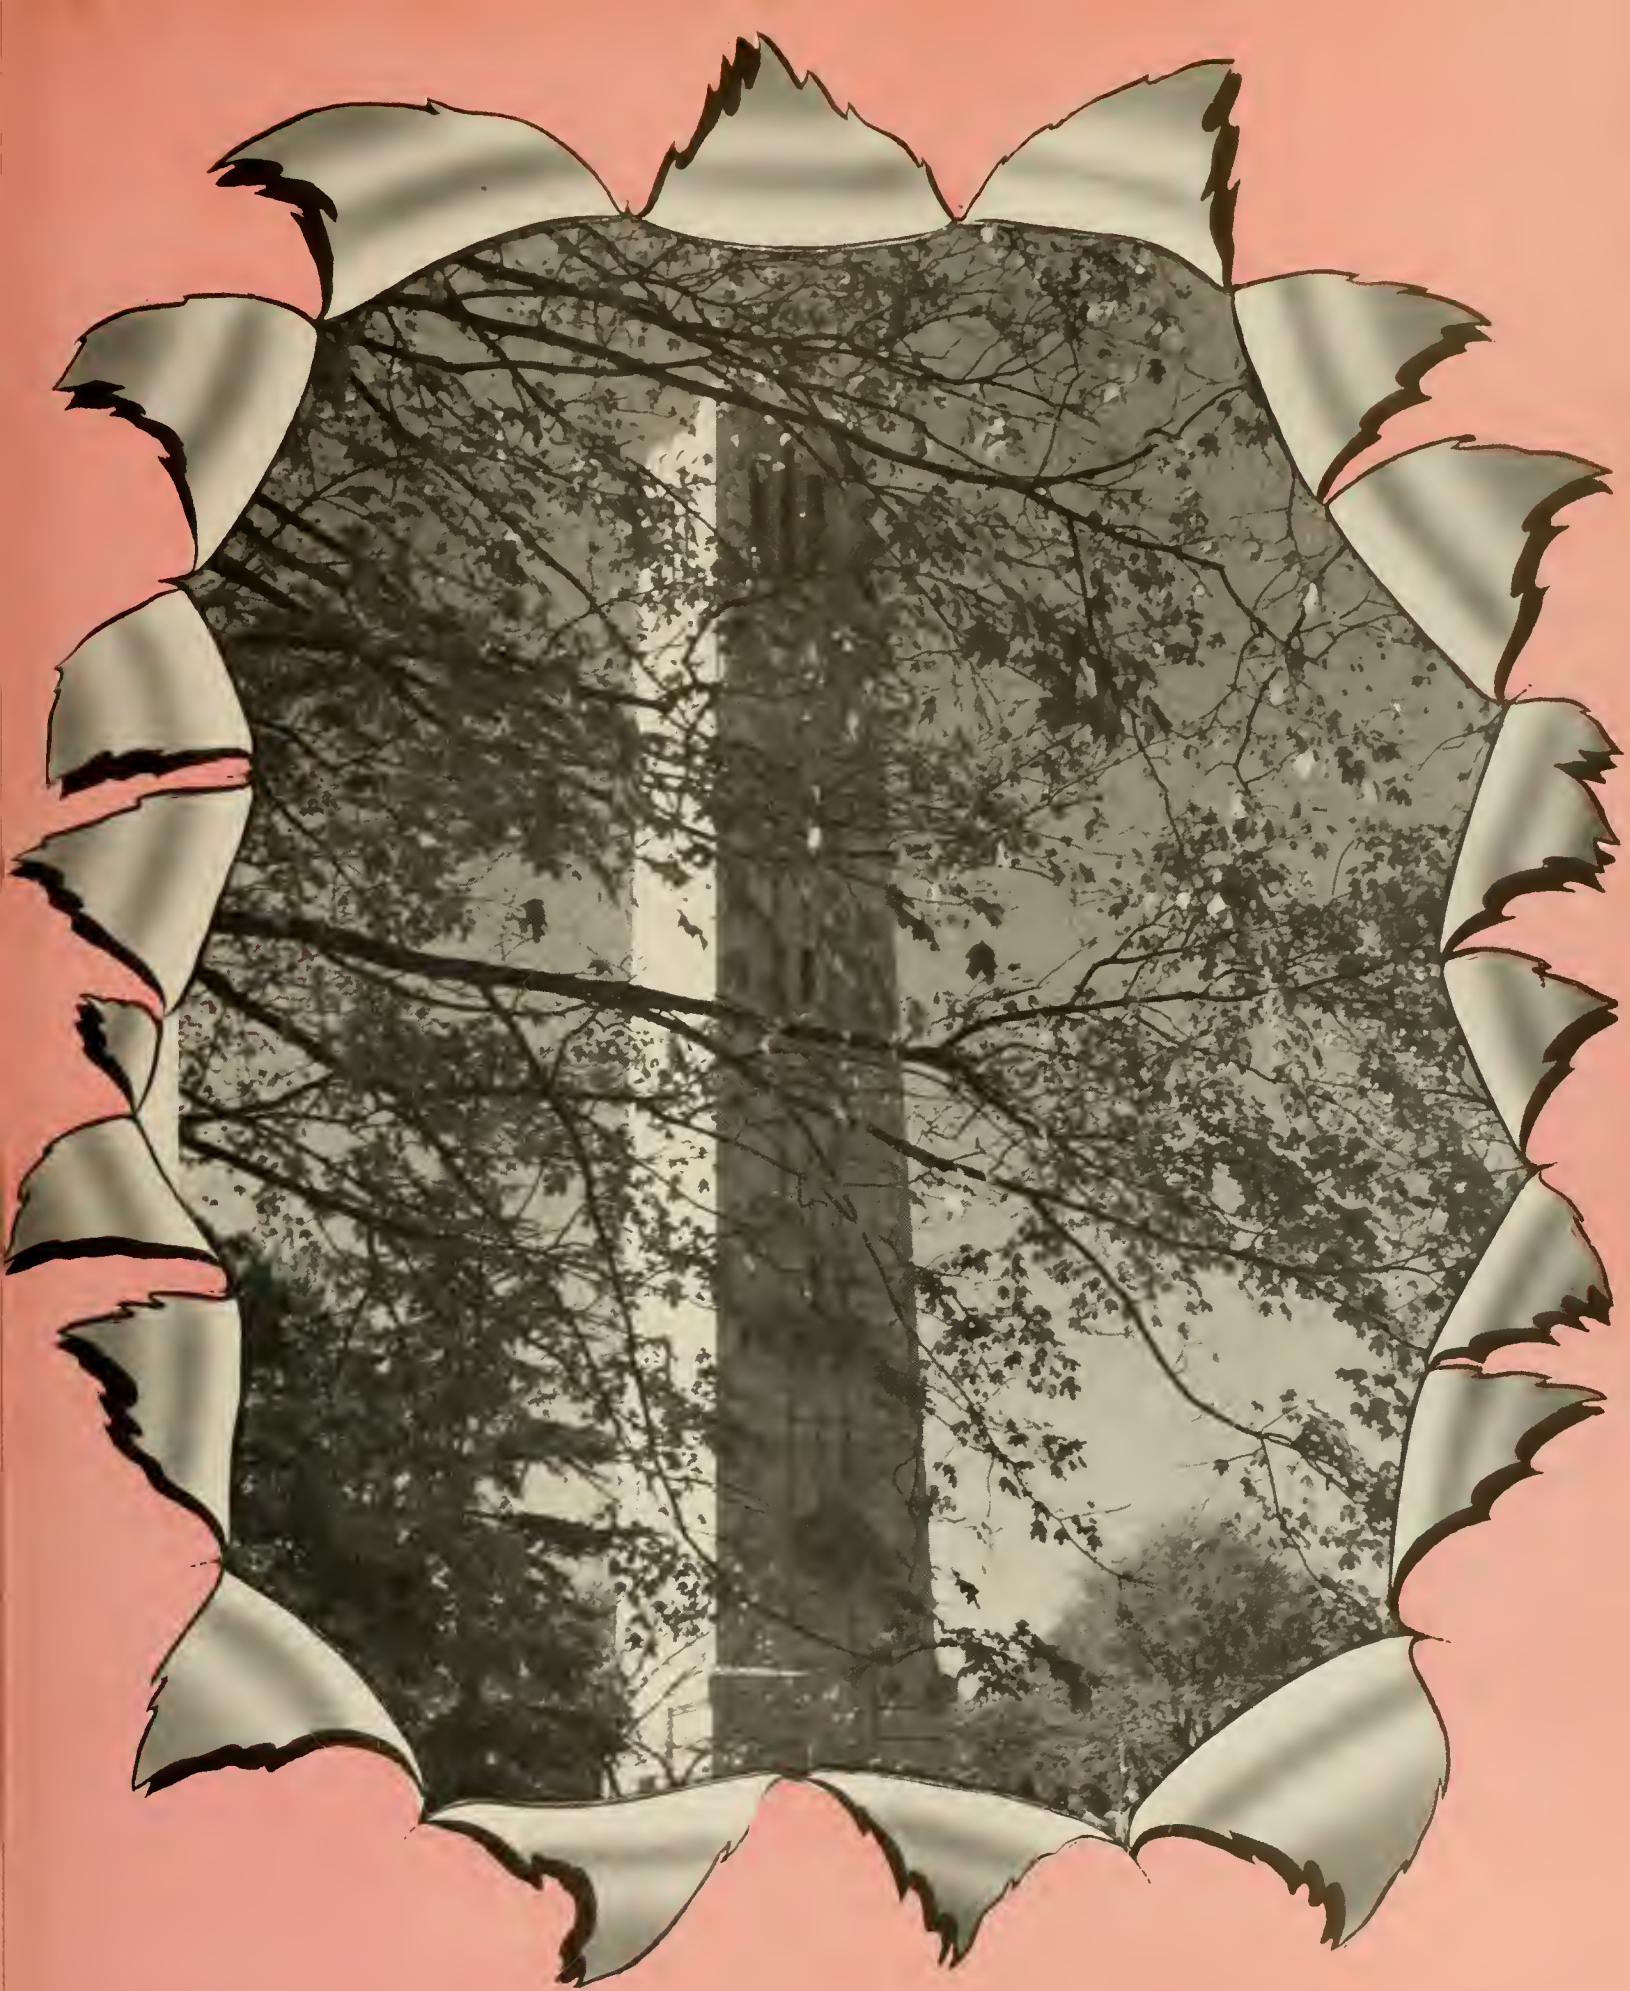

Seniors and Their Leaders

It was a quiet Sunday evening. The activity on the campus was at an absolute minimum. The library was nearly empty. The walks were devoid of students. Lights were out in most campus buildings. A few dormitory rooms were lighted, but the classroom buildings were black. No cars were parked in front of the dorms. Only a smattering of students were in the C U. The suitcase students had not arrived back as yet, and the campus in general seemed to be taking a rest. Rigor mortis appeared to have the College in its grips. Activity ceased.

Only when this contrast is offered is it realized what a bustling hive of activity State is during a regular day. The campus houses a big business.

Some people come to college, go to class and get their education. Others come to college, go to class, but they get a little more education. This latter group participates in extra-curricular activities. They are the people who run the campus and when they finish running the campus, they are more able to cope with the problems of life. The experience gained in campus activities is more than could ever be taught in some classes.

It would be impossible to list the activities of each of these twelve outstanding men, however, I'm sure there is no need to do so because each student has been affected in some way by the work of these men. The following men are my choice for the Big Men On Campus.

Curricular vs. Extra-Curricular

For all intents and purposes the learning part of college life, regardless of which school you're registered in, ends when the last 6 o'clock lab is finished each day. Theoretically, classroom buildings should close their doors until the next morning. However, college students are an odd lot. After working all day together they still seem to want to spend the evening working together. For this reason campus buildings, instead of dying after dark, come alive. While the nightwatchmen check through the campus, policies and schemes are being worked out in meetings of various campus organizations, each trying to help make its own individual school the best on campus.

These numerous meetings remove the student from his studies for a while, allowing him to relax and develop those innate things that textbooks can't do. All of these are definitely a great part of college life, and if you remember:

That's how it was . . . each school an individual . . . but together n. c. state

we deal with the earth . . .

Agriculture is basic in North Carolina's welfare, physical and economic. Changes are occurring constantly to affect the lives of all our people. Many of these changes in agricultural science originated at State College, in the labs, in the greenhouses; and many of them were made by men trained at State. From the School of Agriculture go men trained in various fields in agriculture, to carry their knowledge to the farms and to the schools.

Alpha Zeta

Alpha Zeta was founded at Columbus, Ohio on November 4, 1897. The North Carolina Chapter was the eighth of forty-five chapters and was chartered in 1904. Its aims are perhaps best expressed in the words of its founders: "Alpha Zeta was established neither as an honorary nor as a social fraternity, but as a professional fraternity whose membership shall be combined of the qualities of high scholarship, fine fellowship, and sound character." These are the vital qualities of real leadership, and it was the actual potential leadership in the field of agriculture for which the fraternity was established to encourage and develop.

MISS ISABELLE CAMPBELL
Sponsor

The aims of the Agronomy Society are to improve relationships between faculty and students, to stimulate interest in the field of Agronomy, and to aid in carrying on student activities. The Society sponsors a departmental exhibit at the North Carolina State Fair in the fall, an election banquet in the winter and an over-the-state field trip in the spring.

Agricultural Club

The "Ag Club" is an organization whose membership includes all in the School of Agriculture and the Department of Agricultural Education in the School of Education. The Club sponsors educational and recreative events such as the Student's Ag Fair (held in conjunction with the N. C. State Fair), the Barnwarming, the Student's Livestock Day, the "Ag" Club picnic, hayrides and smokers. At the weekly meetings members enjoy informative talks, illustrated lectures, educational movies, and stunt programs. The "Ag" Club publishes its own technical publication, The N. C. State Agriculturist, one of the finest student publications anywhere. Since its organization around 1917, the club has been student governed with faculty members acting only in an advisory capacity. The student members plan and execute all of its activities.

American Society of Civil Engineers

The object of this society is to afford an opportunity for closer acquaintance among the students in Civil Engineering at N. C. State College, to increase interest in engineering, to foster a true professional knowledge and spirit among students, and to co-operate with the professional and academic Civil Engineering World.

Meetings are held once a month and include addresses by professional engineers, films on engineering projects and construction, student papers presented before the chapter, social affairs, and business meetings. The chapter publishes its own monthly paper, On the Level.

Keramos, the national professional Ceramic Engineering Fraternity, was founded in 1902 at Ohio State University, and is the oldest professional engineering fraternity in the world. While the organization is strictly professional in nature, the requirements for membership are as high as most of the honorary societies and it permits the wearing of the key by honor students. Membership is offered only to students in the Department of Ceramics or Ceramic Engineering who have a good scholastic record, a good character record and who give promise of making good in industry. The principal object of the fraternity is to promote and emphasize mental achievement and to promote interest in ceramic art, technology, and engineering.

American Society of Heating and Ventilating Engineers

One of the newest professional organizations on the campus is the student chapter of ASHVE. This was the second student branch to be formed.

Objectives of the student branch are as follows: to supplement the student's classroom work and his understanding of the problems of air conditioning and related industries, primarily by securing qualified speakers; to provide a medium of exchange of ideas and interests by the presentation of student papers; to focus the attention of the air conditioning industry, particularly that of North Carolina, on North Carolina State College as a progressive institution, graduating engineers for heating and air conditioning work; and to improve the student's training in the field of heating, ventilating, and air conditioning by cooperating with the college and with industry in establishing and maintaining a modern and well-equipped air conditioning laboratory.

Programs of the society include outstanding engineers from the field as speakers, joint meetings with the North Carolina Division of ASHVE, social outings, and dinner meetings.

Membership is open to all students in the school of engineering who are interested in the field of heating, ventilating, and air conditioning.

Membership in Pi Tau Sigma is the highest honor that can be obtained by a mechanical engineering student in his field. He must maintain a very high scholastic average in order to be eligible for membership, but this is by no means the only requirement. Before a student is selected for membership in Pi Tau Sigma, he must also be rated on social adaptability, honesty, personal cleanliness, neatness, and soundness of principles and morals. If, after all these things have been considered, a man is deemed worthy of the honor, he is invited to join Pi Tau Sigma. This is an honor which all men would be proud to claim as theirs.

The purpose of Eta Kappa Nu is to recognize and encourage outstanding achievements in the electrical engineering profession, particularly among students. High scholarship, leadership ability, and integrity of character are requirements for membership. The organization has prepared a chapter room which is used as a study room, and has undertaken several similar projects for the general aid of students in Electrical Engineering. The organization has also, with financial aid from the Student Government, installed the public address system in the east side of the cafeteria.

An engineering society chartered at North Carolina State College in 1925, Tau Beta Pi elects into its ranks each year those student engineers that have distinguished themselves scholastically. Membership in Tau Beta Pi is one of the highest honors that can be bestowed upon a student engineer.

Chi Epsilon

Chi Epsilon is a national professional Civil Engineering fraternity, based on the broad objective of increasing the efficiency of the profession as an instrument of social betterment. Chi Epsilon was organized to recognize those characteristics of the individual engineer deemed fundamental to the successful pursuit of an engineering career, to aid in the development of those characteristics in the undergraduate engineer, thereby working toward a higher standard of service offered to humanity by the profession.

Xi Sigma Pi

Xi Sigma Pi is a national forestry honor fraternity whose purpose is the recognition and promotion of leadership, scholarship, and interest in the profession of forestry. Each year, the organization honors the outstanding freshman and senior in the School of Forestry. The fraternity sponsors annual public lectures by nationally known individuals working in forestry or in allied professions.

Forestry Club

The State College Forestry Club holds weekly meetings during the school year for the purpose of promoting better relationships between students and members of the faculty. Educational and recreational programs are presented at these meetings.

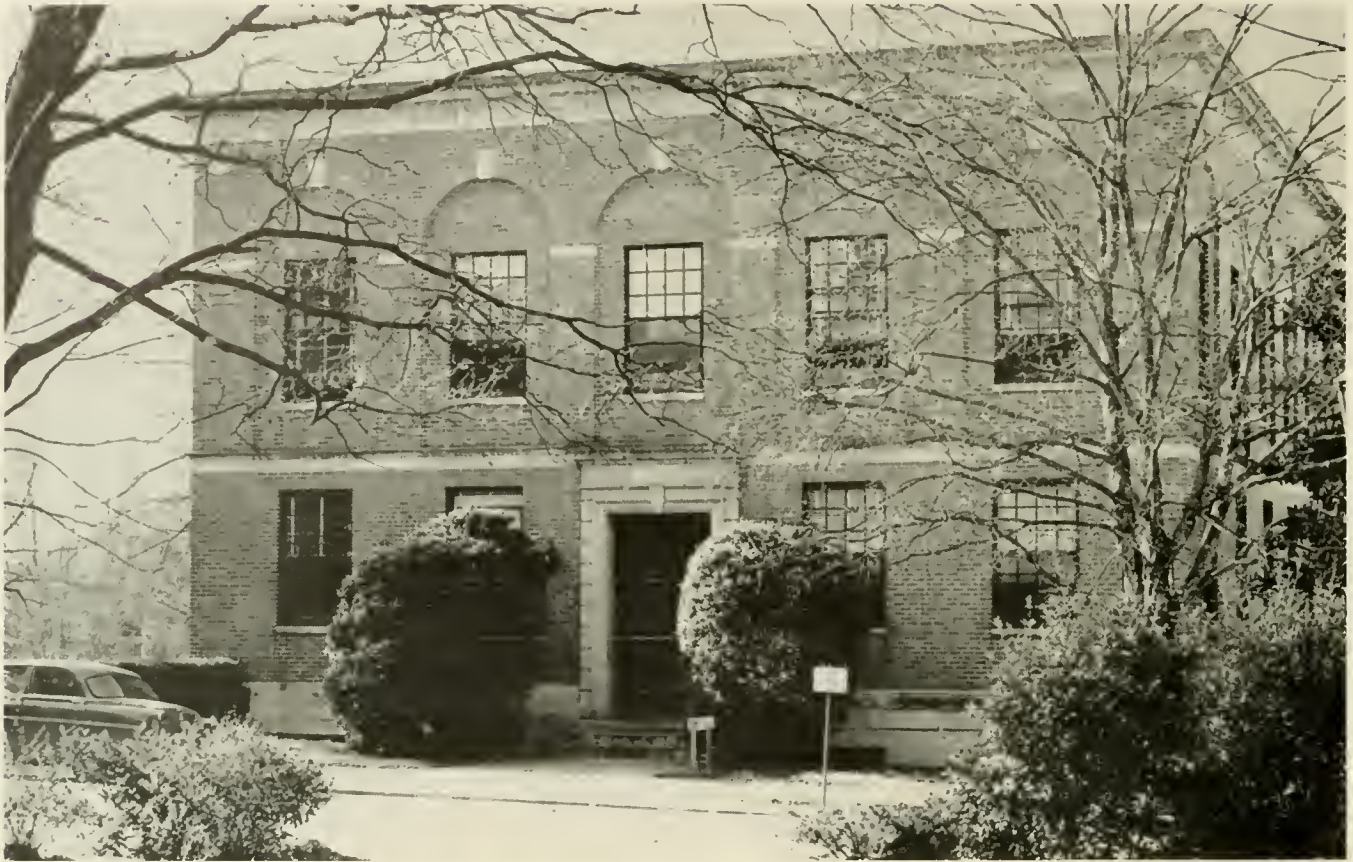

An annual "Rolleo" held at Hill Forest is sponsored by the club. At the "Rolleo" teams from various classes compete in axe throwing, tree felling, and horseshoe pitching. The outstanding social event of the year is the "Loggers' Ball."

Publication of the Pinetum, the Forestry School annual, is sponsored by the club and distributed to forestry students and alumni. The club also publishes Slabs and Edgings, a bi-monthly paper containing articles and news of particular interest to forestry students.

The Tompkins Textile Council attempts, through bi-monthly meetings, to further student interest in textiles and to bring the student body and faculty closer together through mutual respect and friendship.

The social highlight of the year is the annual Lint Dodgers' Ball, which the council sponsors for the entire Textile School.

Another highlight of the year is the Textile Open House, which gives the people of the state a chance to see what the Textile School is doing. This year's Open House featured a fashion show displaying various textile fabrics. Robert Krook was the Open House chairman.

Phi Psi Fraternity is a professional textile fraternity, the objects and aims being: first, to promote good fellowship among men of textile schools and the textile industry; second, to encourage a high standard of textile work; third, to assist by every honorable means the advancement of its members.

Eta Chapter at North Carolina State is the largest chapter in the fraternity, in parallel with the largest textile school in the world. During 1949-1950, the chapter took part in arranging a display of student work for the national Phi Psi convention, and conferred honorary degrees upon two outstanding men in the textile industry. Social activities of the group include the annual banquet, at which time a cup will be awarded to the Man of the Year in the Textile Industry.

Nineteen fifty-five . . . what is it? To ROTC seniors throughout the United States it's more than just a year . . . more than just a passage of time. It's a step forward. It's a step in our progress from being just ROTC cadets to being commissioned officers capable of leading our fellow man and helping to preserve the peace in our troubled world. It seems that every year graduating cadets have been told that they were about to enter a world full of chaos and many crises. When you look back over the past few years you can see what is meant. It's up to today's ROTC cadets to gain the knowledge and wisdom that will enable them capable of playing their respective roles in the turbulent tide of future world events.

That's how it was . . . rifles and saber

jets state's own warriors

ARMY

The Army ROTC has as its purpose, the training of students for positions of leadership in the Army in time of national emergency. The successful completion of a four year Army ROTC course leads to a commission as a second lieutenant in the Army reserve. In the classroom, emphasis is placed on giving the prospective officer a general background knowledge of military subjects and activities essential to all of the Army's fifteen arms and services. Maximum effort is made to arouse the student's interest through the use of weapons, illustrations, training films, practical exercises and models. Drill and Exercise of Command facilitate development of those essential characteristics of leadership such as self-confidence, initiative, loyalty, and the ability to think clearly, make wise decisions and inspire others to work for the success of any endeavor.

PERSHING RIFLES

The Pershing Rifles is a national honorary military society formed for the purpose of promoting high quality military training and leadership in ROTC Units of the colleges and universities of the United States. The National Society of Pershing Rifles is organized into companies and regimental areas. The N. C. State College Chapter is Company I. of the 4th Regiment.

The Pershing Rifle membership is composed of cadets who prove themselves superior in leadership, academics, and military bearing as members of the Cadet Corps. The activities of the organization are: drill and parade exhibitions, demonstrations for the Regimental and National Drill meets, and participation in the Annual National Convention of Pershing Rifles.

SCABBARD AND BLADE

Scabbard and Blade is a national honorary society and was founded in 1905. The membership consists of outstanding ROTC advanced course officers. The purpose of the organization is to increase efficiency, promote good fellowship, and raise the standards of military training in ROTC units at American colleges and universities. At the present time there are nearly one hundred chapters in the United States. The local chapter is known officially as G-3. There are approximately forty-five members at all times in the State College society. The activities in which members of G-3 were engaged during the past school year include the formal inauguration of a similar chapter at Wake Forest and the co-sponsorship of the annual Military Ball in April.

ARNOLD AIR SOCIETY

The Arnold Air Society, named in memory of General "Hap" Arnold, has as its members advanced AF ROTC students who have a high academic standing and a high degree of interest in the Air Force. The organization is national in scope and is America's fastest growing collegiate society.

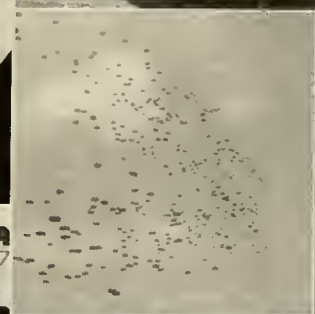

State College's James J. England Squadron of the Arnold Air Society furthers a fraternal spirit among the drill field leaders through formal and informal social events, educational programs, field trips, and a coordinated program with the cadre officers of the detachment.

The Arnold Air Society's motto, "The warrior who cultivates his mind, polishes his arms," is the spirit of the organization.

The fire in the back fireplace first blazed brightly and then flickered weakly. And the couples seated before it were as inconsistent as the fire. They were happy for a while but then suddenly, they turned sad. The reason for this was graduation. This was their last Greek party. They were thinking of the many hours spent "down at the house." Horrible, yet memorable days as a pledge . . . the splendor of the All Greek . . . their brothers for the past four years . . . years yet to come.

Sadness was in their hearts now, however, at the thought of leaving. Sadness that, as with the fire, friendships would die; but they hoped.

THE INTERFRATERNITY COUNCIL

What Congress is to the United States, Interfraternity Council is to the Greek organizations on campus. Composed of members from each fraternity, this group, representing divergent groups, meet every two weeks to solve their common problems. Their official purpose is to better the relations between fraternities and the student body, the faculty and the public in general.

But many other problems are also discussed, such as setting and enforcing Rush-Week rules. Among the events which the Interfraternity Council handles is the awarding of a trophy to the fraternity which has the highest cumulative point average for the year, as well as the Annual Interfraternity Dance.

Alpha Gamma Rho was founded in 1908 at Ohio State. Its purpose is to develop the best social, mental, moral, and physical qualities in each brother, and to promote a wider acquaintance and a broader outlook on the part of agricultural men through fellowship in a national organization. There are now 34 active chapters.

Nu Chapter, before becoming national in 1919, was the local fraternity, Theta Beta. One of the highest aims of Nu Chapter is outstanding scholarship, and all members are expected to develop a high standing. Nu Chapter has won six times a plaque awarded by the national organization for the highest scholastic average. The chapter also has won the IFC Scholarship Cup eight times in the fourteen years that it has been awarded.

FarmHouse is a national, non-Greek letter, social fraternity. The first chapter was established in 1905 at the University of Missouri. Seven men conceived the idea of FarmHouse at Missouri, having in mind the development of a social fraternity which would maintain high morals, develop outstanding leadership qualities, strive for high scholastic achievements and provide a home for worthy agricultural students while in college. With these definite objectives to reach the motto, "Builder of Men," was adopted for the fraternity.

The national scope of FarmHouse now includes 14 active chapters. All of these groups have continued to carry out the high ideals set forth by the mother chapter. Each year almost every FarmHouse ranks first in scholarship among the other fraternities on their respective campuses.

The North Carolina FarmHouse Club was formally installed on May 15, 1954, and received its charter as the thirteenth chapter of FarmHouse Fraternity. Since its beginning on the State College campus in 1952 the organization has gained prestige through demonstrated ability in scholarship, leadership, intramurals and joint fraternity functions.

We are quite fortunate to have with us one who helps, encourages and inspires us daily. This one could be none other than our beloved house mother, "Mother Frances K. Dunbar." For those many things said and done to make things brighter we say to Mother Dunbar, "Thanks a million!"

The Kappa Alpha Order was founded at Washington and Lee University in 1865 to perpetuate the Southern ideal of gentlemanly character typified by Robert E. Lee, our spiritual founder. The ultimate aim of the Order is to inspire each brother to achieve a noble character and an integrity of principle.

At present there are 75 chapters within the Order. Alpha Omega Chapter, chartered at North Carolina State College in 1903, is the third oldest fraternity on the campus. Each spring our Southern heritage manifests itself in the Old South Ball, with chapters of the "Big Four" participating in the South's most famous ball.

Kappa Sigma originated at the University of Bologna in 1400 and soon spread to many of the larger universities of Europe. On December 10, 1869, the "Five Friends and Brothers" founded the first American Chapter at the University of Virginia. Kappa Sigma has grown until it now has at least one chapter in every state. There are 100,000 living alumni of the 126 chapters.

Beta Upsilon Chapter was founded on the State College campus in 1902 and since then has initiated over 400 men.

Soon after the end of World War II a new fraternity, Phi Epsilon Tau, was formed on the State College campus. The principles it stood for were simple and unique. They were fraternity, liberalism, and nonsectarianism. Bound together by these interlocking maxims the fraternity grew in number and in spirit.

In June of 1949 the local chapter of Phi Epsilon Tau was formally chartered by the national organization of Phi Epsilon Pi Fraternity. In March of 1953 the group, finding their physical plant no longer adequate, moved to their present headquarters on Hawthorne Road.

The highlight of the year's social activity is the annual Phi Ep week end at which new members are initiated and new officers are installed.

Pi Kappa Phi was founded on December 10, 1904 at the College of Charleston, Charleston, South Carolina. The founders, seven men who pledged themselves to a lasting bond of friendship, had no idea of the vast organization that would flower from the seed they had planted. With the definite purpose of extending the influence of the organization, the incorporation as a national fraternity took place in 1907. The purpose of the fraternity is to promote fellowship and mutual trust among its members; to uphold the ideals and traditions of the colleges where its chapters are located; to encourage excellence in scholarship; and to inculcate in its members the highest ideals of Christian manhood and good fellowship.

Tau Chapter was established at State College in 1920, and since that time has been active in the fraternity family. For many years Pi Kappa Phi has sponsored an annual interfraternity sing to promote cultural interest on the campus. To its members, Pi Kappa Phi is more than just three Greek letters; it is their college home and the cornerstone of life-long friendships.

"There remaineth a lingering presence, the ghost of good fellowship rare." This line, from one of our often sung SAE songs, embodies the spirit of Alpha Chapter.

Founded at the University of Alabama in 1856, Sigma Alpha Epsilon was the first of the great line of Southern fraternities. Since that time it has gradually grown and expanded until today, with national offices housed in the beautiful Levere Memorial Temple at Evanston, Illinois, collegiate chapters represent SAE in 46 of the 48 states. Now the second largest national fraternity, Sigma Alpha Epsilon has always been a leader in the Greek world.

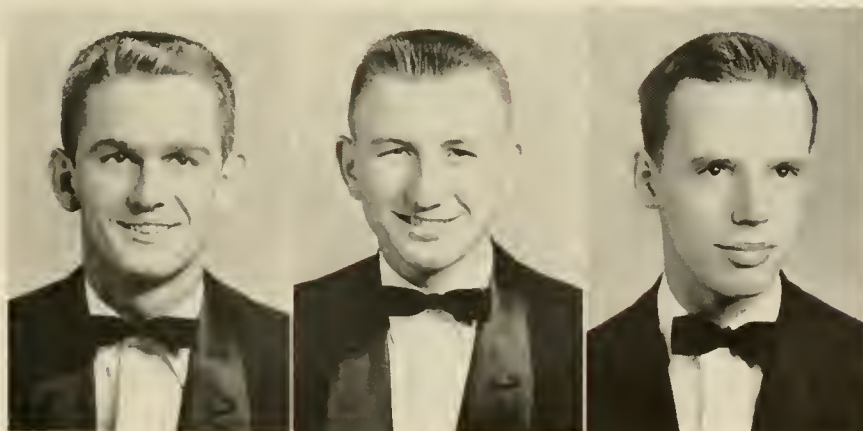

Alpha Chapter was established on the State College campus October 24, 1947, and, during this brief eight-year span since its conception, has risen to take its rightful place on campus. Guided by high ideals and noble ambitions, it hopes to help prove the worthiness and value of fraternal living.

Sigma Alpha Mu was founded on Thanksgiving Eve, November 26, 1909, at the College of the City of New York. The eight founders pledged themselves to lasting friendship.

The object of the fraternity, as expressed in its constitution, is "to foster and maintain among its sons a spirit of mutual moral aid and support; to instill and maintain in the hearts of its sons love for and loyalty to Alma Mater and its ideals; to inculcate among its sons such ideals as will result in actions worthy of the highest precepts of true manhood, democracy, and humanity."

Sigma Omega Chapter is the outgrowth of a local fraternity, Theta Phi, which had its beginning in 1929. From its inauguration, the fraternity has always maintained high standards of scholarship and conduct. Sigma Omega Chapter is the owner of its own home at 304 East Park Drive.

Sigma Chi Fraternity, the nineteenth college fraternity to be founded, this year celebrates the centennial of its founding. Established on June 28, 1855, at Miami University in Oxford, Ohio, Sigma Chi now has 124 active chapters throughout the United States and Canada.

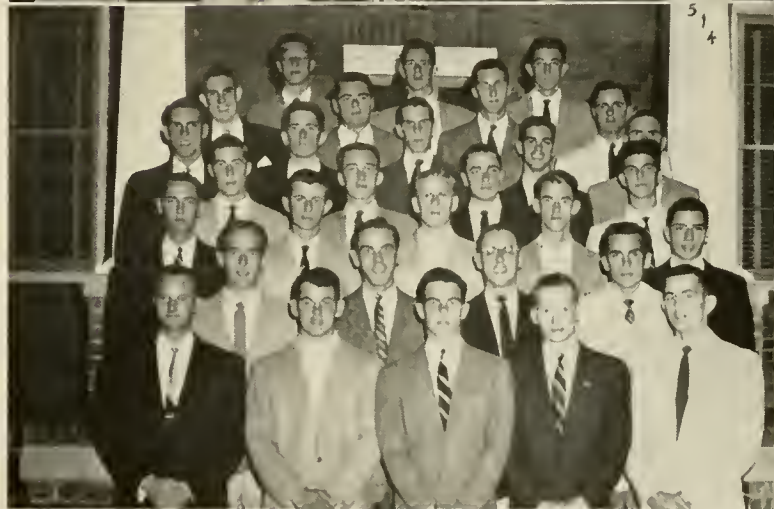

Delta Epsilon Chapter at North Carolina State was installed on May 15, 1943, after two years' existence as a local fraternity known as Chi Sigma. Sigma Chi is located in its own chapter house at 2514 Clark Avenue.

Sigma Chi always takes an active part in all campus activities. Among the many accomplishments of the fraternity are the winning of the athletic cup for five years straight and a singing group that is held in high esteem on the campus and in the City of Raleigh. A growing collection of all types of trophies may be seen at the fraternity house.

Sigma Chi's are proud of their campus achievements. They are proud, also, of their many social functions. The highlight of the year is their widely known Sweetheart Ball, which is held in the spring of every year.

Sigma Nu was founded from the Legion of Honor, a secret society organized in 1868 at the Virginia Military Institute. The founders, moved by idealistic hopes, established a society which would inculcate honor and mutually benefit its members. Since its founding the fraternity has prospered, and at the present time there are 119 active chapters throughout the country.

The purpose of its founders was "to establish through the warm friendship of a group of congenial college men, on the foundation stone of honor, ideals of intellectual achievement, character, and social development, all to the end of becoming better men and better citizens."

Beta Tau Chapter was installed at State College in 1895, making it the oldest fraternity on the campus.

Those Left Behind

During their first eventful years at State they learned there was more to college than just classes. They learned that occasionally they slept through classes in the morning. They learned that many times they sat in the College Union and drank coffee rather than going to their room and studying. Yes, college life in actuality was far different from first impressions. But there were other things which comprised college life, too. They learned about these things during their freshman year and now as Sophomores, and Juniors set about to look into the "other things" which seemed so important to many people.

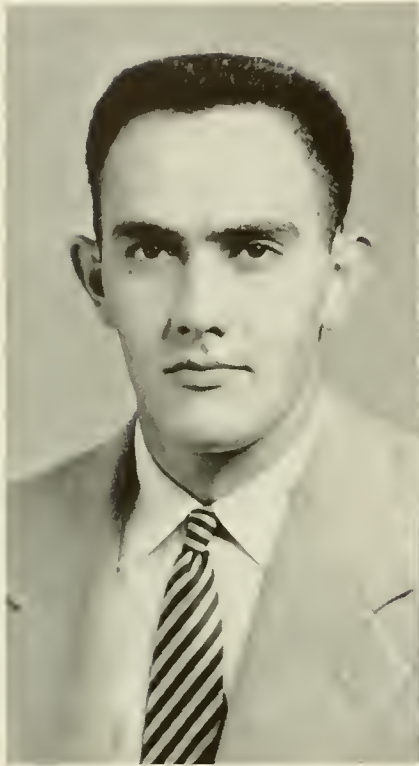

That's how it was . . . underclassmen

Blue Key Honor Fraternity was founded at the University of Florida in October, 1924, to perpetuate the belief in God, to preserve the principles of good citizenship, and to promote the best interest of the students.

The fraternity recognizes outstanding qualities in character, scholarship, and service, placing equal emphasis upon leadership in student activities. Membership is composed of graduate and undergraduate students of all departments of American colleges and universities.

Each year Blue Key co-sponsors the Homecoming celebration. Annually, the fraternity presents the citizenship award to the senior who has distinguished himself as the foremost citizen of his class. In addition, Blue Key cooperates with other campus organizations in various activities to perpetuate a more meaningful campus life.

PHI ETA SIGMA

Phi Eta Sigma strives to reward and promote an interest in high scholastic standards. Membership is open to those Freshmen who make the equivalent of half A's and half B's. Throughout the United States it is considered the highest scholastic honor a Freshman can attain. Members are active for the latter half of their Freshman year and remain active during their Sophomore year.

Non Credit

If you remember, many hours of the midnight oil were burned because of those things called extracurricular activities. They were not part of our own little schools that make up North Carolina State, but instead were organizations that helped make it a pleasant place to live . . . and also a few gold keys to add to the chain.

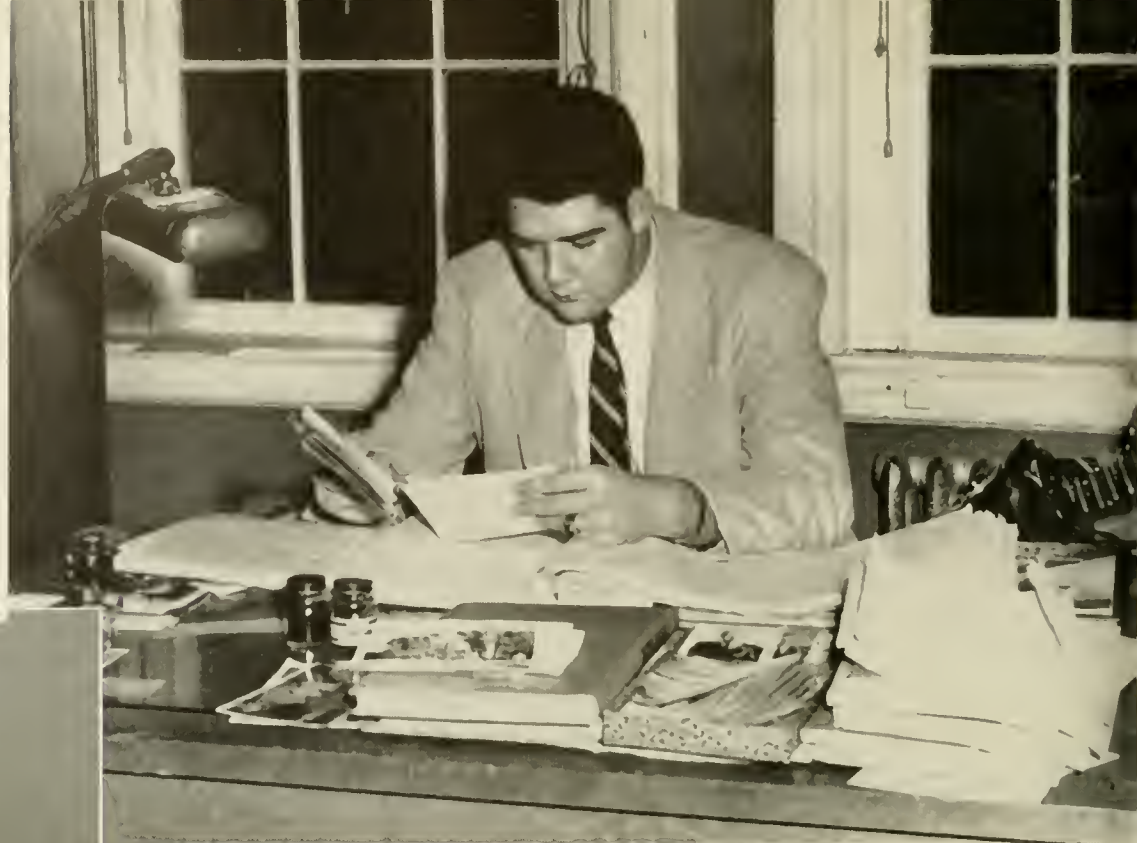

All the activities were a part of our education, but at the same time a part we weren't given a grade for doing. Whether Student Government, Judicial Board, Band, IDC, College Union, YMCA, Religious group, or Publication, the main function was to serve the students in every way possible. To those of you that are featured in this section, if you remember . . .

That's how it was . . . many little activities make up one college year

the '55 agromeck

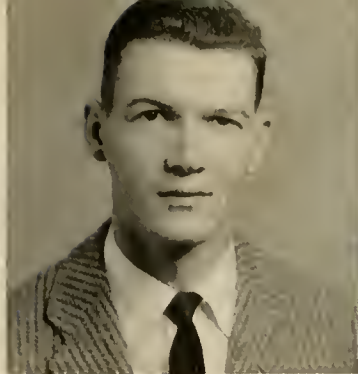

I'm the 1955 AGROMECK, and on these pages is my heart and my life's blood. My pages represent the planning, organization, and hard work of this year's staff, who have endeavored to give me a unique personality far different from that of any of the previous AGROMECKS. Sincerely, I have meant to offend no one with my wit and unintentional mistakes, and I hope that as you leaf through my pages, you will share the gay spirit of fun that will make your year at State—1955—be remembered with pleasant and lasting memories

The paper was rolled into the typewriter and two hands began beating away on the keys. The pictures in the mind of the writer were transformed into tangible words on the paper. When the writer was through, he jerked the paper out of the typewriter, hastily scrawled "30" under the story and handed it to the news editor in the slot of the copy desk. The story was edited, a headline was written, and the page was taken to the print shop. There, the linotype operator pecked away at the keyboard, setting the story in type. When he was finished, the story was proofed and checked for mistakes, then it was matched with the proper headline and placed into the proper page form. This was done with all the stories, the form was locked up and the Technician was ready to roll.

The studio was bustling with activity. People were running around setting up microphones and arranging cord. Inside the control room, engineers were dialing knobs and colored lights were flashing on and off. Confusion? No, of course not. This is not confusion. These are the studios of radio station WVWP on the third floor of 1911 Building. These studios make State radio-active.

SOUTHERN ENGINEER

The Southern Engineer, sponsored by the Engineer's Council, is published by the students of the School of Engineering and appears six times during the school year. The magazine has the dual purpose of disseminating information and affording students an opportunity to develop writing techniques. It also helps inform the engineering public of the South of the standards, opportunities, and progress of the School of Engineering.

THE AGRICULTURIST

The Agriculturist is the official organ of the School of Agriculture and the "Ag" Club. It is published six times a year. This magazine, by printing articles on soils, livestock, and other items that are invaluable to agriculturists, promotes closer co-operation between students, faculty, and alumni. The Agriculturist serves as an important mode of publicity both within this state and others.

The Textile Forum is the publication of the School of Textiles. The staff is made up entirely of students; this year with Albert D. Nalven in the Editor's slot, and Clarence Bostian the man who handles finances.

Each year the Textile Forum publishes a brochure featuring a picture of each rising senior and a writeup of his extracurricular activities.

THE PINETUM

The Pinetum is the annual publication of the Forestry Club. For the past 23 years the Pinetum has grown from its small beginning to an issue of over 100 pages of articles, pictures and reports. All of the events and happenings in the School of Forestry are recorded in the Pinetum.

A large part of the Pinetum is for the alumni who have graduated in forestry at State College. In this section an alumni can find out where all of the members of his graduating class are and what they are doing.

The Pinetum is distributed to all forestry students at the college, to other forestry schools, and to alumni who request it.

Standing Committees

STUDENT GOVERNMENT

The system of student government at State College was established in 1921 for "the purpose of forming a more perfect community of scholars, affording opportunity for training in American citizenship, and securing the blessings of liberty, learning, and integrity . . ." for those of the college community. Since that time there have been revisions made in order that changing conditions and needs might be adequately coped with, but the principles of student participation have remained unchanged.

It is the purpose of the student government to handle all matters of student conduct, honor, and general student interest; and to promote in campus life self control, personal responsibility, and loyalty to the college and to the student body. Every duly registered student of North Carolina State College automatically becomes a member of the student government and is subject to the jurisdiction of its legislative branches.

The legislature is a cross-section of the student body for each professional school, and each class is represented therein. The legislature and the four officers are elected by their classmates in an open election in accordance with the democratic principle.

Our government has acted this year under the provisions of a new constitution which was adopted during the spring elections of 1954. This system includes the executive, legislative, and judicial branches and is student-operated in its entirety. The judicial branch operates on the assumption that it is not a system of control, but rather a means of teaching; and the lessons it aims to teach are honesty and self discipline. The over all operation under the new constitution has been very successful.

COMMITTEES

The standing committees are the actual "work horses" of the Student Government. After carefully studying matters pertinent to the Student Body, the committees make recommendations to the Student Council in the form of resolutions. The Council then accepts or rejects these recommendations. The standing committees are: the Elections Committee, the Investigation Committee, the Promotions Committee, the Rules Committee, and the Welfare Committee.

THE LEGISLATURE

an important part of dormitory life

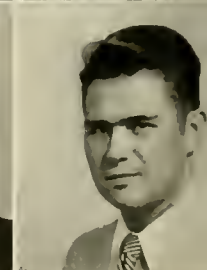

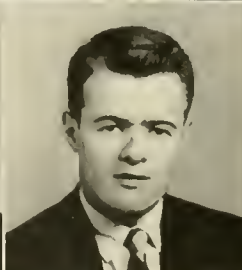

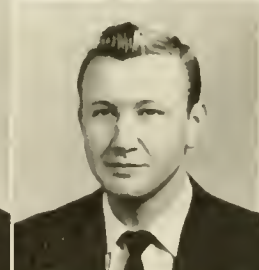

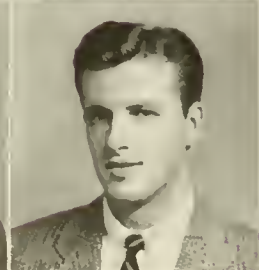

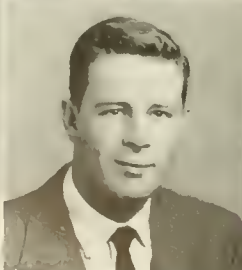

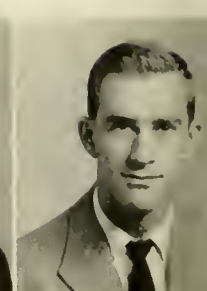

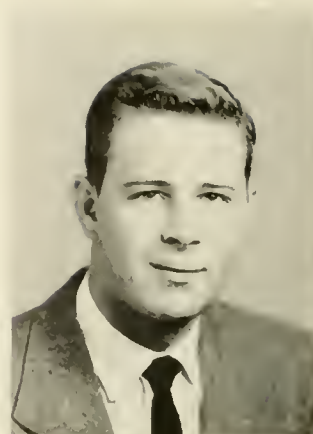

T H E I D C

Every student who lives in a dormitory at N. C. State College is a member of the Dormitory Club. Each dormitory elects annually a President, Vice-President and a Secretary from its members.

The purpose of the Inter-Dormitory Council is to plan and direct athletic, social, and recreational activities for all the dormitory members. The Council accomplishes these functions through the appointment of social and athletic directors in each dormitory. These appointed directors work under the supervision of an IDC Social Chairman, and an IDC Athletic Director. In addition to these officers there is also an appointed Publicity Director whose job is to publicize dorm events and to stimulate interest in the various events of the year.

YOUR COLLEGE

Laughter filling the second floor as the movie audience watches a Chaplin film . . . the busy whirl of the jigsaw in the Hobby Shop . . . an occasional snore from the Quiet Room . . . the roar of approval from the fight fans watching TV in the North Lounge . . . the happy exclamations of greeting as old friends meet in the Main Lobby . . . the sentimental strains of a Glen Miller melody flowing from the juke box in the Snack Bar . . . these are familiar sounds to all who use and enjoy our College Union Building.

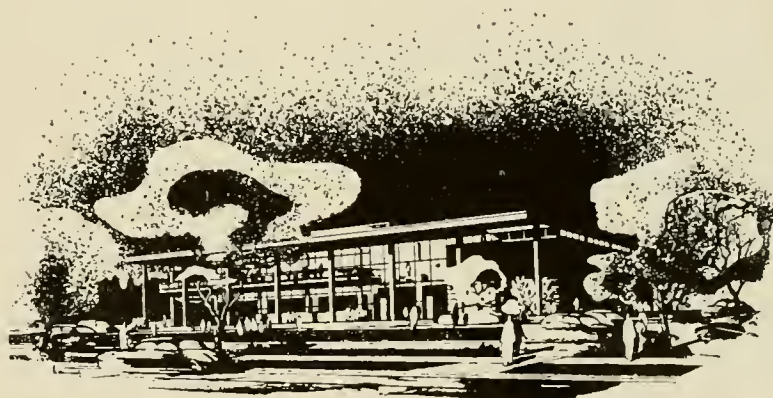

The Union Building was designed and constructed so that every individual in the College Community could share in the social, non-classroom educational program which the Union offers. The Union program is based on the belief that, together with technical skills, every individual needs social skills as well if he is to become a happy and mature person. The goal, then, of each of the sixteen committees who plan the Union program is to provide the opportunity so that each person may acquire these social skills and realize the benefits of a fuller life.

No, you don't have to be muscle bound to be a member of this club. You don't have to swing through trees yelling, "Aiieeee." You don't have to be able to lift 100 pounds in one hand. All you have to do is be a State College student.

Everyone gets in on the fun when it's time to decorate the Union. The Holiday spirit is captured at Christmas in the State College student's home away from home.

VETERANS' ASSOCIATION

The Veterans' Association of this college, organized since October, 1953, has been actively associated with student programs, functions, and social events from the first day of its birth. Membership of the group is presently over 400 veterans and each new semester swells the rolls. Common interest in yearly planned programs including such items as Veteran Association sponsored dances, stag socials, school projects, and inter-group student activities has done much to create a feeling of friendship within the association. An active participation in every student problem of major importance has contributed much to make the name of the Veterans' Association well known on this campus.

As stated in the constitution of the North Carolina State College Veterans' Association—"For God and country, we associate ourselves together . . . to perpetuate in peace those ideals for which we fought in war . . ."—and this is the only country in the world where those ideals can be realized.

SIGMA PI ALPHA

Sigma Pi Alpha is a national honorary language fraternity founded at State College in 1927. Membership in the fraternity requires an honor average in languages and above average in general scholastic work. Activities of Sigma Pi Alpha consist of talks by foreign students and much-travelled persons and frequent socials held jointly with other Raleigh college chapters of the fraternity.

MU BETA PSI

Alpha Chapter of Mu Beta Psi, national honorary music fraternity, was founded in 1925 at North Carolina State College. The purposes of Mu Beta Psi are to promote better fellowship among the members of the various musical organizations of the college, and among musicians of different colleges; and to advance music to its proper place as an educational subject. Alpha Chapter sponsors concerts by the various campus musical organizations and co-ordinated the activities of the Band, Glee Club, and Orchestra.

MUSIC DEPARTMENT

The Music Department under the direction of Christian Kutschinski promotes and encourages various college musical activities including band, orchestra, glee club, small ensemble groups, etc.

The Band, serving as the Military Band for the Army and Air ROTC throughout the school year, also functions as the "Marching Band" during the football season, after which there is a modification of membership and instrumentation to conform to the requirements of a Concert Band, which devotes most of its time to the study and performance of the best in band music. Besides playing occasional concerts to entertain the students and their friends, a small volunteer "pep" unit of the band plays at many of the home basketball games. This year Richard Wimbish has done a fine job as student leader of this faithful group of volunteers, who merit the appreciation of the thousands of fans who were entertained by them during lulls at the games.

LUTHERAN STUDENT ASSOCIATION

The Lutheran Student Association of North Carolina State College stimulates and sustains students in using the Bible regularly, privately, and in groups, in prayer, in regular church attendance, and frequent reception of Holy Communion. Students are encouraged to study and appreciate the message of the church and to participate in Church work; to develop a conscious need of Christ in facing modern life and problems; to cooperate in holding intercollegiate conferences in order to assist students on every campus to accomplish these purposes; and to build up a national and international fellowship of Lutheran students.

AMERICAN INSTITUTE OF PHYSICS

The American Institute of Physics—North Carolina State Chapter—is an organization of students and faculty members who are studying or working in the field of Physics. The primary function of the local AIP is to provide for the dissemination of information in the field of physics by means of lectures by prominent men in the field and AIP publications. The AIP also sponsors several social events for members and their families and friends during each school year.

Socks and!

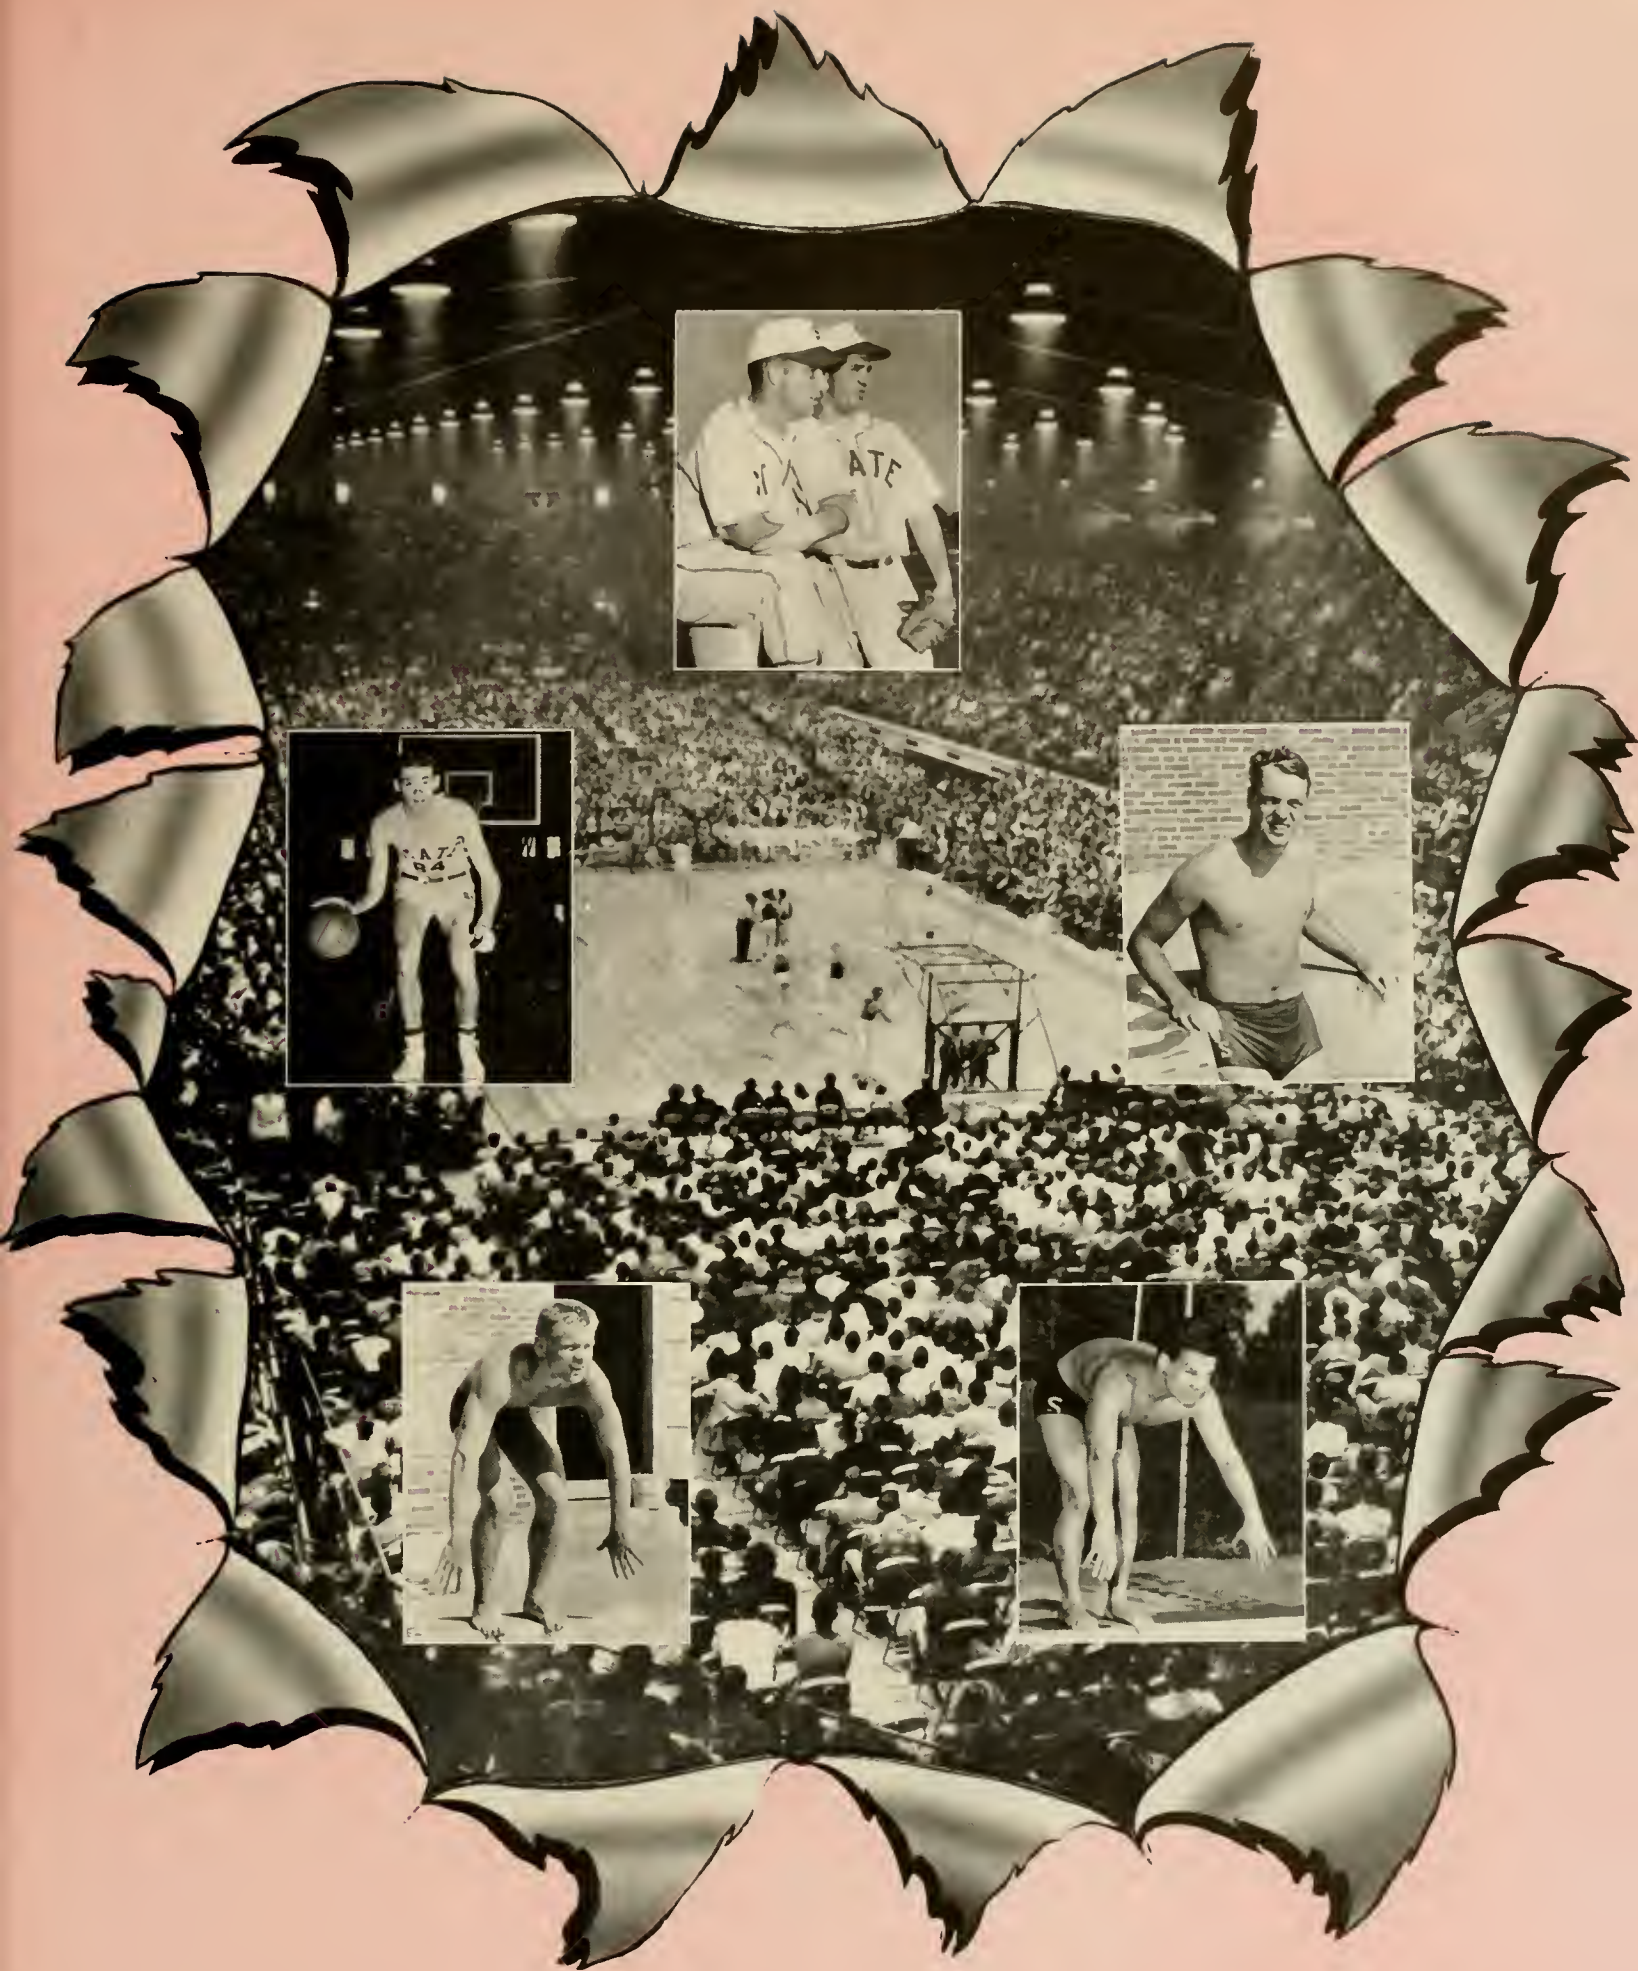

The two opponents were lined up opposite each other. The weather conditions were bad and victory in this contest was of utmost importance to each side. First, those on the offensive tried to pierce the right side of the defense. But the defense held and shifted their strength around. Next the offense began an aerial attack, but it was battered down by the defense. The tide of battle changed often as the captains of both forces employed all known strategy. This sounds like the story of a football game, doesn't it? It isn't, however. It's the story of a war. It's the story of any war, but mostly the potential of war which faces America today.

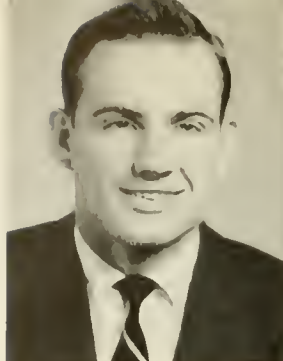

Doesn't it seem better to settle questions of supremacy on the gridiron, or on the track, rather than on a foreign battlefield . . . or on a local battlefield at home?

That's how it was . . .

"Baptist Hollow" proved to be up and the State team hit their first game that the offense didn't click, so it was Wake Forest by 26 points.

State opened up for its first home against the "Seminoles" of Florida State. The ball game was a hard fought one with neither team giving ground. During the first half State slipped a play on the field that was stopped only after crossing the goal and kept this lead up until the final quarter. In that quarter the State team had a punt blocked from their goal line only to have the ball brought back to the five yard line and given to Florida State.

After the heart breaker with Florida State the "Pack" pounced upon the Indians of William and Mary for a blood curdling score of 26 to 0. Coach Edwards proved to the Indians that they didn't

The new semester opened and so did State's new team as well as the new mentor, Earle Edwards. The opening game was at Blacksburg, Va. against V.P.I., where the mighty red drew blood the first time they got the ball by covering 88 yards for the tally.

When the game ended, 31-20 the Wolfpack had shown a powerful offense and good spirit—something that was sorely missed last year.

The second game took State to Carolina for a Carolina upset. The big red refused to let the "tar babies" gain ground and constantly pushed them back. Six times State got within Carolina's 20 yard line, but couldn't quite make the goal. Nevertheless the three touchdown favorite Carolina didn't succeed in proving herself against State.

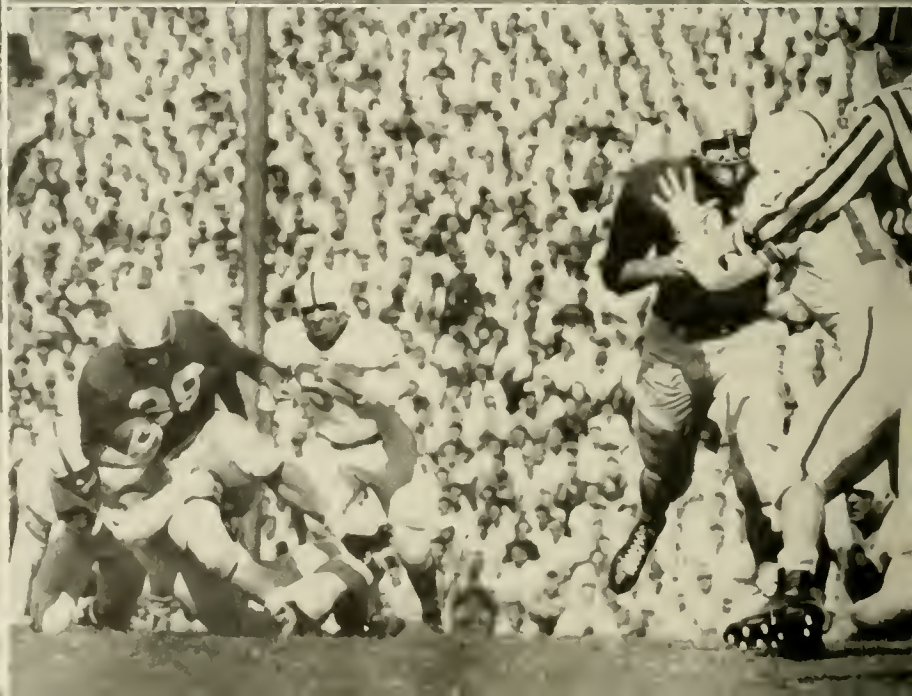

The third game of the season took State to Wake Forest. The Deacons with their support from know their "path finding" too well. The defenses used by Coach Edwards kept them completely baffled throughout the game. Various comments were heard from the W & M spectators and those printable were "why don't they stop him for speeding" and, "manslaughter is illegal," but nevertheless State played class A ball and the breaks of the game went to "Dook," Furman and Maryland. The "Dook" and Furman by close scores and the Maryland by larger score.

The final day of the season found State playing West Virginia in Morgantown. Even though the game was lost the Pack had done a fine overall job. Coach Edwards who is now one season old showed the State fans that the football in the future will consist of more wins.

The AGRONOMECK Staff takes its hat off to Coach Edwards and the team for a job well done. Next year there will be some boys on the sidelines who are used to being on the field and I'm sure everyone will remember names like Lodge, Davis, Frasier, Kapp, Riden, Urgovitch, Vivino, Teer, and Captain Don Langston who did so well but now have graduated.

Next year's varsity will receive much of its new talent from this fine freshman team, one of the strongest ever to play for the Wolfpack.

The frosh would have had an undefeated season but Duke beat them in the closing moments of the game after the baby Pack had fought back from a three touchdown defeat.

In the final game of the season, the boys whipped Miami in Key West, Florida. The Hurricane frosh were considered one of the strongest in the country.

The team was led by Campton, Hunter, Christy, and Tony Guerrieri.

Campton was a standout in the line at left tackle, Hunter and Christy were the two speedy and shifty halfbacks. Tony Guerrieri was the hard-charging fullback and he averaged a booming 43.5 yards per punt.

Dick Hunter led the team in scoring and had an 8.4 yard average for 51 carries into the line.

State rooters can be sure of seeing quite a few of these boys in action next year with the varsity.

BASKETBALL

Molodet up for a rebound

Once again the Wolfpack of State College led the way in "dribble-happy" Dixie, as well as being one of the top ten teams in the nation.

With the nucleus of last year's team returning, big things were expected of the men who put State College "on the map." The average rooter couldn't have been happier with their performance, which included winning the Dixie Classic and being ranked sixth in the country as this book is going to press. The team is also top-seeded in the coming Atlantic Coast Conference tournament.

A few people around these parts felt that the team was enjoying too much success on the courts; so they told the N.C.A.A. bigwigs that we should be banned for a year and let some of the other schools share in the glory. The N.C.A.A. complied with their wishes, and we are ineligible for the playoffs this year after the regular season ends.

The students once again have every right to be proud of their basketball team, and we may point to it with pride as one of the school's outstanding features.

The beginning of the Duke conquest

The outlook for next season seems to be fairly bright. The team will lose Captain Gotkin, a sure-fire set shot and ball handler, Ron Scheffel, the boy who makes the press work, and Big Cliff Dwver, the skyscraper who came through in fine style for the Casemen.

Back for the wars will be Shavlik, Molodet, and DiNardo. These boys all started on this year's squad. Sure to see plenty of action will be Hafer, Pond, and Dickman—three stellar forwards. John Maglio could take Gotkins' place and make State fans forget that he never was anything but a starter. Up from the freshman team are Miles and Stepanovich, who will offer much help.

The '55-56 season should see State beating Kentucky for the N.C.A.A. Championship, we hope, because Rupp wouldn't play us otherwise.

The couple stood in front of the window. Inside were some pretty dresses which the girl decided would look good on her. Her male companion agreed. Down the street a few store-fronts was a men's shop. Here were exhibited clothes in which the male pictured himself as cutting quite a caper. The couple was engaged and they were doing a little window shopping. As with most engaged couples, window shopping is about the extent of all buying activities. While saving for a wedding, couples are not apt to spend much money.

Although they did not have a pocketful of money, the couple had each other. And they were thankful the windows were full, so they could dream of a happy future.

That's how it was . . . no money . . .

WORRIED BECAUSE YOU'RE UNPOPULAR?

Think back to your last party . . . who had the best time? The good dancers, didn't they? Don't let poor dancing rob you of popularity. Come to Arthur Murray's and find out how quick and easy it is to be a sought-after partner. Arthur Murray's exclusive teaching methods can bring out your dormant ability in just one lesson. So don't wait, come in now. Studios are open from 10 a.m. to 10 p.m.

Working TOGETHER...

Working together is the theme of the OBSERVER PRINTING HOUSE publications department. We cannot do our best work without your assistance—you cannot expect to get the best results from your efforts without willing assistance and coöperation from your printer.
